ADDITIONAL CAMPING
3RD. ANNUAL SCOUT CANOE TRIP

Conducted under auspices of Virginia Scout Council

Aug. 26- Sept. 1, 1925

Starting at Winton, Minnesota and going by canoe and portage up to Lake Emerald. One of the most beautiful lakes in North American. Emerald is located in the Provincial Park of Ontario., Quetico Park.

6- Scouts
1- Scout master
1- Ass't Scoutmaster
1- Scout Committee.

Three canoes, two tents and camping and fishing equipment completed the outfit. The Scouts were Star, Life and Eagle none below a Star could go.

Caught many large fish. Photographed scenery, and wild life etc. Real honest to goodness camping.

The cost of the trip was $5.85 per person. The council paid $9.00. The total cost for the trip of seven days was $61.65. Volunteers furnished transportation with their cars on the 54 mile trip to Winton and return. The Items of cost were:

$25.00	Fishing licences
15.00	Canoes
5.00	Ass't Scoutmaster responsible for cooking
2.00	Tents
10.00	Trucking over a 5 mile portage
4.65	Misc.
$61.65

Each person brought about $2.50 worth of grub from home according to a carefully prepared list.

No accident, no sickness, and no upsets.

Total of 63 camp days to add to council camping report.

The Scouts participating had a $100.00 trip for $.97 per day, and an experience few get the opportunity of enjoying.

Mr. H. F. Pote,
1503 First Nat'l Bank Bldg.,
St. Paul, Minn.

Dear Sir:

Mr. C. F. Chase, Scout executive from Virginia, was in to our store today, and ordered from us nine Kennebec canoes to be shipped to the following places: Six canoes to be shipped to Mr. Chase, at Winton, Minnesota; one canoe to be shipped to C. W. Armstrong, at St. Cloud, Minn., one canoe to be shipped to Mr. Nash, at Albert Lea, Minn., and one canoe to be shipped to H. H. Prescott, at Minot, North Dakota.

Mr. Chase also left his order for paddles and canoes for the six boats that are to be shipped to him at Winton and suggested that I write you and find out if provision had been made for paddles and yokes for the canoes to be shipped to the other points. If not, and you will advise us, we will be glad to include this equipment with the canoes as they are being shipped out.

Also, Mr. Chase suggested that if provisions had been made for this equipment for his six boats that you advise us so that we will not ship this material with the boats to Winton. If you will give us this information we will certainly try to abide by Mr. Chase's instructions.

Yours very truly,

HANSON-DULUTH COMPANY

BY Ed Gustafson

EG:MB

P.S.

Mr. Chase asked me to advise you the prices quoted him, which he will confirm:- The price of the 17' Kennebec canoe as per enclosed catalog, is $62.50, less 20%, plus freight from the factory, which runs approximately $5.00 per boat. On the paddles a price of $2.25, less the 20% discount, and the yokes are $4.00, less 20%, F.O.B. Duluth.

July 2 to 11

Made the first trip of the Region Ten Wilderness Trails Canoe trips with the party of Scouts, Leaders (volunteers) and staff to secure full data relative to the effectiveness of the plan. There were five men on the trip including leaders and thirteen Scouts. The trip was most effective in spite of heavy rains during the entire period.

Leaving Winton Minnesota on the second the route carried us North to the Canadian Boundary. A base location was selected on Crooked Lake from which side trips were taken. Return was made via same route. Bellove trips and general plan have great possibilities.

Bellove trip thoroughly successful. No serious accidents, excellent leadership and a wonderful country.

WILDERNESS CANOE TRIPS
BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

Rushing rapids, dashing falls, crystal clear lakes broken here and there by the jumping of a "muskie", long sun-warmed days and occasionally longer rainy days, adventurous expeditions into the woods and many more interesting experiences were all on the program for the 86 Eagle Scouts and their leaders who participated in the Eagle Scout Wilderness Canoe Trips which were conducted by the National Camping Department of the BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA this summer in northern Minnesota. Five trips with about 18 boys and leaders on each trip were operated, starting at Winton, Minnesota and going northward into international waters in Crooked Lake and Lake La Croix. Eagle Scouts from nearly every section of Minnesota and North and South Dakota participated in the expeditions under the leadership of C.S. Chase, Scout Executive of the Arrowhead Area Council of the BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA with headquarters at Virginia, Minnesota.

Parties left Winton on July 2, July 12, July 24, August 4 and August 15, each group remaining in the wilderness for nine or ten days. They started at Winton, followed the canoe route through Fall, Newton and Basswood Lakes into the Basswood River which forms a part of the International Boundary. Then they went west into Crooked Lake, past the Pictured Rocks and on to Lake La Croix. Return trips were made either by the same route or by other routes such as the Bear Trap-Gull Lake route. In every case side trips were made into the surrounding country as the party progressed and plenty of time was available for the excellent fishing for which these seldom visited lakes are famous. While most of the route is straight hard paddling, many portages of from 20 to 150 rods must be made over the innumerable falls and rapids in the streams that connect the lakes. The total distance covered by each party was from 125 to 200 miles.

Many interesting experiences, some of them closely bordering on adventure, were encountered by the Scouts on the various trips. Some of them are here given as written by the boys in the "Log" that was carefully prepared by them each day. The first, from the Log of the third trip shows that 'good turns' may be done even in the wilderness.

"Morning brought a good day, bright sun and gave the fish a wonderful appetite so we went fishing and it was so good fishing here at the Lower Basswood Falls that we decided to stay all day. About noon a canoe came along with two men aboard. When they landed the guide told us that the man with him had hurt his back so bad that he couldn't move and asked if we would help themover the portage because they couldn't make it alone. They stayed and had dinner with us and then Mr. Chase asked for volunteers to help them out of the woods to some place where they could get a boat. Three fellows went back to Fall Lake with them, about 20 miles and about 300 rods of hard portage. The rest of us went up the Horse River fishing"

Here is an interesting record from the Log of the second trip, made the second day out: "Left camp at 8:15 (Walleyes for breakfast). Weather clear and warm - just right. One long and two short portages found us murmuring "When do we eat"? An hour's rest and a bite to refresh ourselves made us ready to go again. The timber along here (Basswood River) is getting bigger and bigger as we push on into the forest. The next portage into Crooked Lake marked the first tip-over on this trip and Mr. Chase says it is the first one so far this summer. Here two rivers meet and the resulting current is pretty tricky. It carries the canoe toward a great big rock and then just as you think you are sure to hit it there comes a big side current and you miss it by inches -, unless you're good. Grand and glorious feeling alright. "Oily's" crew jumped out and got a good and well-deserved ducking-- but the sugar got a ducking too. Lump sugar the rest of this trip".

Not all of the trip is paddling, eating, fishing and adventuring however. The following record from a log shows a bit of the instructional part of the trips: "It's Sunday. We stayed in camp all day and rested. After Sunday School we had tree work with Mr. Chase. We found the following varieties of trees around the camp.... Spruce, black and white, Tamarack, Balsam, Dwarf and White Birch, Palm of Gilead, Tag and Black Alders, Bassel, Willow, Quaking and Big Tooth, also Cedar Aspens, Sugar Red and Mountain Maples, Mountain and Black Ash, Juneherry, Pin and Sand Cherries, Norway, Jack and White Pines, Basswood, White and Scarlet Oaks.....a total of 28 kinds. This was most interesting and we learned a lot. During the afternoon we worked on our canoe tests and practiced for some merit badges. Some of the fellows then washed clothes, some slept, some fished, some went to the Painted Rocks. A big camp-fire closed the day. Oh yes, some folks from Duluth enroute to International Falls came by with a put-put motor outfit. Glad to see them anyhow."

The trips may serve a very splendid purpose aside from the good times that the boys who participate may have. Each Scout attending the trips should finish them skilled in the handling of a canoe; he should be a good camper, well able to care for himself and others under any ordinary circumstance. These boys will become instructors in these various activities in the home communities thus popularizing the canoe, making its use safe and opening the wilderness for the pleasures of mankind. The trips were most successful from every point of view and it is the intention of the Camping Department of the BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA to continue the plan on a more effective and enlarged scale next year.

LOG OF THE FIRST WILDERNESS TRAILS CANOE TRIP

July 4th to July 11th

Donald Johnson - Scribe

Monday July Second

The first group of Scouts and leaders to go on the Eagle Scout Wilderness Trails trip into the North Woods country came into Winton Minnesota the point of departure, by car and train, all arriving ~~by the train~~ on time. The party gathered at an old hotel in Winton in which the supplies for the trip were kept. The first two hours were spent in pack reducing, grub distribution and getting acquainted. In addition to our personal packs each canoe was to carry one or more group packs, each weighing from 50 to 60 pounds. Then we carried all our stuff down to the dock, divided ~~into groups of three~~ the group into groups of three, then number of boys who were to go in one canoe. Packs were distributed and canoes assigned. Then followed a brief period of canoe instruction.

Finally about 11:45, canoes were loaded and we were off, paddling with the wind down Fall Lake. The weather was ideal and the water just rough enough to make the going a lot of fun. A lot of coaching was necessary as we went along because only a few of us knew how to paddle a canoe, but due to good luck and fair weather we all stayed out of the water until we had learned the rudiments of paddling.

The canoe line-ups were as follows:-

- Mr. Chase, Don Johnson, and Dick Burns.
- John O'Donnell, Claire Harner, and Roger Kelsey.
- Mr. Ten Eyck, Fred Ten Eyck and Race Crane.
- Mr. Marek, Joe Bilek and Ralph Peterson.
- Mr. Nagel, 'Chick' Stinchfield and Warren Hanson.
- Clinton Dennison, Moreen Ivey, and Perry Culvert.

With the strong wind in our favor we make fast time through Fall Lake and ~~xxx~~ reached our first portage early in the afternoon. Everyone tried to carry too much and the mosquitoes were awful, so that we used plenty of time getting across the portage to the shore of Newton Lake. Our paddle across ~~xxx~~ Newton Lake was a short one and brought us to our second portage at a place called ~~Wagging~~ Weggins Camp. After a last round of pop and candy we carried over the hill and launched our canoes in Pipestone Bay of the Basswood Lake. We made our first night's Camp about two miles down the lake from the Camp, everyone turning to in great style helping get things in shape for the night.

Forgot to tell about the bears at Weggins' Camp. Two cubs were chained in the yard. Every one shared their candy with them and some of the fellows got scratched up a bit for getting too friendly with them.

The night was uneventful except for the 'skeeters' and that Ralph Peterson cut a little nick out of his leg with an axe.

TUESDAY July 3rd.

Everyone up early. Breakfast at 7:00 o'clock. We had bacon, oatmeal, prunes, fried pike, bread and butter. Packed up and started off about 8:30. Visited a group of campers on Basswood Lake. Fished on the way without very much success, though several fair fish were caught. We were now paddling along the International Boundary and the going was fine. We finally landed above the Upper Basswood Falls, cleaned our fish and had dinner. Had Tea, bacon, fish, hardtack, raw onions, fried potatoes for lunch. After dinner Ivey went out in the Lake to get a drink. The wind was fairly strong and he was paddling alone in the rear of the empty canoe. When trying to make a turn over he went and 'mid the cheers and coaching of the bunch landed the canoe by swimming it in shore. Then we had a 270 rod portage to make but found a way to make it in two portages each quite small. Camp this evening was made on a high bare rock overlooking the Basswood river. A beautiful place with very few skeeters, but awfully hard and bare. For supper we had boiled potatoes, macaroni, rye bread, and tea. Everyone went to bed early because it rained all night.

Wednesday July 4th.

Fourth of July, but you'd never have guessed it. The day opened with a drizzly rain and was heralded, ushered and introduced formally by the bursting of Ivey's firecrackers. Launched the canoes at 8:00 and passed on down the Basswood River a few miles until we were halted by the rain again. We made camp in the rain on a rock overlooking the Basswood River Rapids. It rained off and on all day so that most of us were wet, either from falling in the rapids or from the rain. It was a lot of fun though and the fishing was great. We baked biscuits for lunch, had tea, fish, potatoes and bread and butter, with of course, some more onions.

Two fellows were swimming above the rapids and started to swim across the small lake at the head of the rapids. They were caught in the current and pulled through the first rough water, more scared than in danger. They landed in Canada, about 100 feet from when they started down. Then came three men in two canoes. They carried their packs over the portage and then the guide took the canoes through the rapids, Mr. Nagel going through with him in the second canoe. Finally the rain stopped and we had supper. The strawberry nectar, fish, potatoes, soup and lima beans tasted mighty good. Then to bed early, with more rain all the time.

Thursday July 5th.

This was to be a perfect day. The sun came out bright and warm and after a breakfast of oatmeal and raisins, bread and coffee we set out down the river.

A Trip Into the Wilderness. 1928

The crew of twelve scouts in four canoes pushed off of the docks on Fall Lake at Winton Tuesday July 24, 1928 at 9:30 A.M.

Traveling on Fall Lake for about five miles we came to our first Portage which was about one hundred rods. At the the end of the portage there was a very fine spring. We ate dinner here which consisted of hard tack and water.

Traveling by way of Newton Lake we came to our next portage which was also about one hundred rods. This lead us into Pipestone Bay. Travelling on Pipestone for about three miles we found a good camp site so we camped here.

After we made camp and ate supper we picked a few blueberries and had blueberry pancakes for breakfast the next Morning. It was too windy to travel so we stayed on land. The wind blew up a good rain about supper time. We all got wet, but morning brought a good day so we traveled again.

Traveling on Basswood Lake for about eight miles we portage into Basswood River.

Traveling on Basswood River for a small distance we portage again and then put in the water for about two hundred yards and then finished the portage of two hundred and seventy five rods. Traveling again on the Basswood for a short distance we came to another portage over some rapids. Going on the Basswood again we got lost looking for a new portage, but came back and found it all right. After this portage we traveled about one mile and came to lower Basswood Falls. We camped here for the third night out.

Morning brought a good day and it was good fishing so stayed here the whole day. About noon a canoe came along. We found out that one man had hurt his back so badly he could hardly move. They had dinner with us and then three of our crew helped them back to where they could get a boat. That afternoon the rest of the camp went up the Hoosier river fishing. We caught lots of fish so we had good fish for supper.

The next morning we started on Crooked Lake going past the painted rocks and the table rocks. On the way Mr. Chase got some rats ^{that had been left by} ~~from~~ the crippled man we helped out, so he stopped and got them ~~where they had them hidden~~. We arrived at Curtain Falls, our destination, about four o'clock.

We stayed at Curtain Falls the next day, and so Mr. Chase took five of the boys over to see Rebeca Falls.

The next morning we started for the Horse River going over Choked Lake again. It was very windy which made it tough going. We camped at the ranger shack at Lower Basswood Falls that night.

We started early the next morning going up the Horse River. Here we came to some tough portages and some had rocks in the water. After leaving the Horse River we went into the Horse Lake for about one mile and then Portaged into Murphy Lake. Going across Murphy Lake we came to the toughest portage on the trip, a portage of three fourths of a mile from Murphy Lake to Jackfish River. Jackfish river leads to Jackfish Bay. Due to rough waters in Jackfish Bay we had to camp on an island until the wind went down.

After the wind went down we went on going over Jackfish for about one mile. and from there we had to push the canoes through a swamp which lead to Pipestone Bay. We then went on Pipestone for about two miles and then camped for the night.

The next morning we started early for home, finishing the rest of Pipestone Bay, and then over Weston Lake, and over Fall Lake to Winton.

We arrived at Winton about nine forty Wednesday morning August the first completing the trip about eight and one half days.

Monday - July 23.
When I arrived at the Shinton Resort Hotel in Shinton, Minn. with my phase and Cily all of the crew were present, Red, who came the next morning half an hour before starting time. The remaining part of the day was spent getting acquainted. That evening some of the boys went in swimming and others played pool in the hotel billiard room (only one table). About 9 o'clock Mr. Chase made a misstep and sprained his ankle. Mr. Chase, Cily, and I slept in one room while the other eight slept in another room which was quite large. Everyone retired to his room about 10:30 but they (the other 8 fellows) had a rough-house and didn't get to sleep till about 1:30 A.M.

Tuesday - July 24.

Everyone was up by 7:30 and breakfasted soon after. Mr. Chase gave out Ground Cloth to each person. Mr. Chase put Cily, Russ, and Red in one canoe, Eggers, Sliver, and Copenhagen in a second, Bill, Johnnie, and Dave in a third, and himself, Doc, and Colton in the last. He started on Fall Lake from Shinton between 10:00 and 10:15 and paddled about 5 miles. From there we portaged to Newton Lake and paddled about 3 miles to Thegen's Wilderness Camp on Pipestone Falls. There were two bear cub here and several of us took pictures of them and petted them. As this was the last supply point we would see everyone bought candy and gum. We stayed here about 45 minutes and then took 45 minutes to make the eighth mile portage past the Falls. We then paddled $1\frac{1}{2}$ or 2 miles down Pipestone Bay on Basswood Lake. We stopped and made camp about 4 o'clock and had supper about 6:00. After supper some of the boys went fishing but had no luck except a small pickerel. Every body retired about 9:30. The mosquitoes were thick and certainly did have a good feast.

Wednesday - July 25

All arose about 7:00 and breakfasted at 8:00 before which some took a morning dip. We were preparing to leave when Mr. Chase told us that the water was rough and it looked like rain so we wouldn't move. Following this announcement enough firewood was gathered for the day and then most of the boys went out to pick and eat blueberries which are thick as molasses in January. He had dinner about 1:00 and the afternoon was spent doing anything to pass away the time. By about 7:00 we had almost finished our supper when the rains which Mr. Chase had expected, came. It came in torrents with a strong wind which pulled down Mr. Chase's tent twice and three of us got soaked fixing it up. It rained most of the night. Everybody was asleep by 11:00.

Thursday - July 26

Everyone was up by 7:30 and it was nice and sunny after the rain last night and early this morning. Part of the crowd took a morning dip and had a fine time. We breakfasted and by 9:30 broke camp for the day's trip. After leaving camp we paddled down Pipestone Bay several miles to Upper Basswood Falls. We made five portages during the day going down Basswood River to Lower Basswood Falls, one of which was made on Canadian Territory. On the second portage Mr. Chase met a doctor and his wife. The doctor put two pieces of tape on Mr. Chase's ankle so that he could walk without straining it. The distance paddled the whole day was about 16 miles. We camped at Lower Basswood Falls and had supper about 6:30. Following that all the boys who had fishing rods went to the bottom of the Falls and had some luck. We retired about 9:30 P.M.

Friday - July 27

Rising at 6:00 I thought no one had beaten me to it but upon going to the bottom of the Falls I found Johnny at first in order to catch some. Soon after the rest rose and we had breakfast by 7:30. Mr. Chase then asked if we would rather stay here and fish or go on as previously planned and we voted to stay. Most everyone was soon fishing and had good luck. About 10:00 Joe Barber, a guide, came up Crooked Lake with Irving Segal, a man who had strained some ligaments in his back by overloading himself on the portages. It was hard for Joe because Irving couldn't paddle or carry so Mr. Chase offered to let three of us boys go back with him (2 in one of our canoes and one in his)

to Basswood Lake after we had lunch. Eggers, Doc, and I were chosen because we are pretty fair at paddling. We left about 11:30 and by paddling fast reached almost as far as our camping place the first mile out. When we had reached Basswood, Eggers had in some way forgotten his camera on the last portage and he and Doc went back to get it. When they had returned with it I was sitting holding the canoe with my feet and cutting a plug for my box camera. Eggers told me to hurry up and I took a last cut but instead of cutting only the wood it took off also a quarter of an inch of flesh from my first finger. It bled badly and bandaging it took up another half hour. Then we left Joe and Irving. Irving asked for our addresses and wished us luck. We left them about 5:00 and by paddling very, very hard we reached camp by 8:00. We were very tired and hungry when we arrived. While we ate fish, etc we learned that during our absence the rest of the party had gone up Laral River and got a good catch of fish and returned about 5:00. Everyone retired about 9:30 after having sort of a campfire talk.

Saturday - July 28

Everyone got up at about 5:00 and breakfasted soon after. We had to spread the tents to dry because they were so wet with dew. We left camp at 7:10 and instead of paddling up Bear Trap River as first proposed we paddled down Crooked Lake. We took our time and fished on the way so that the canoe, Eggers, Copenhagen, and I were in got far behind the others who didn't have such good luck as we who got about 6 strikes and catches. Because of this we didn't know which of 3 turns to take when we came to them until we had explored 2 small bays. This wasted about 2 hours and as we went along the right route we met Coby and Doc coming back to look for us. We soon reached the others and we all continued on our way to Crystal Falls, our destination, which we should have reached about 1:00 and didn't reach till about 4:00. The distance paddled was somewhere around 15 miles. Upon reaching a point about 15 rods from the falls we stopped and made camp. Soon after we landed Mr. Chase saw a group of flowers of which he didn't know the name. He looked it up in his flower guide and found it was a rare flower called the Purple Archib. He had supper about 6:00 and after supper Dave, Red, and I took a canoe and went around a point across from ours and walked across a half-mile portage to Iron Lake. Previous to this Dave and Colton had been on the portage past the falls into Iron Lake and had seen a cow, moose and when we had reached the Iron Lake end of the other portage we heard the moose call and were so interested that we didn't leave for camp until we were driven by darkness and a ghostly rain-storm. The all fine day retired about 10 o'clock.

Sunday - July 29

None of us got up until 9:30 and we had a light breakfast. About 10:30 six of us, Bill, Dave, Colton, Red, Mr. Chase, and I left camp and portaged past the Falls into Iron Lake and paddled to Rebecca Falls, two very beautiful falls, where we took pictures and gazed at the scenery. We paddled back to the other portage and stopped and saw deer, moose, and other tracks where they had come down to the lake to get a drink. We then portaged and returned to camp about 2:30. Upon our return everyone got into the water and took a soap bath after which we had a nice dinner. After dinner Mr. Chase mentioned that over on the Canadian side was a sand beach on which Indian arrowheads were sometimes found. All except Doc, Eggers, and I went to look for them. Previous to this Doc had pushed Pans, who had Bill's blanket around him, into some shallow water and the blanket got wet. Doc and Eggers waited for me while I did some necessary washing and then we went over to the Canadian side and spread Bill's blanket to dry in the sun. Here I left Doc and Eggers to wander in the woods while I did the same. Everyone returned to camp about 7:30 and we had supper immediately after. He talked around the camp fire for a while and then went to bed about ten o'clock.

Monday - July 30
We got up about 6:00, had breakfast and broke camp about 8:30. When we started back up Crooked there was a million breeze but by 10:00 the breeze whipped up the waves and made paddling quite hard. Besides this we got off our course for half an hour and had a time finding it; however, we reached a place called Table Rock about one o'clock and stopped to lunch and rest. While we were there I found another group of Purple Archies. We continued on our way in about an hour and altho the distance to the Ranger's Cabin at Lower Baanwood Falls, which was our destination, was only about five miles the wind and waves were so strong that we didn't get there till about six o'clock. Not long after we landed Mr. Chase happened to be walking together when very suddenly Mr. Chase bent to the ground and came up with a much-hunted article, an Indian arrowhead. Many were the curious glances cast at it when Mr. Chase showed his prized quarry to the crowd. He had supper immediately and then tried fishing but had no luck. About 9:15 while we were popping Pop Corn it started to rain and we were all very tired anyway so we went to bed.

Tuesday - July 31
When we got up at 6:30 this morning it looked like rain. We breakfasted and broke camp about 8:00. Our canoe was lost because Mr. Chase is in it going back and Copenhagen is in Doc's canoe. He didn't know which way Horse River went so we spent half an hour trying to find its mouth. When we did find it and had paddled in a short distance we surprised a water rat. A short time after the rain started to come down in a slow drizzle. Soon after that we made a 75 rod portage past a falls; then we paddled about a mile and made a 50 rod portage past a second falls. From here we paddled about 100 rods and then made a lift, that is, a very short portage. Just before this we caught up with the rest of the party who could not find the lift. We then paddled along about half a mile and made a short portage. From here we paddled along sometimes between high rocks and in swift currents and saw ducks, beaver and other animals. Soon we came to the place where Horse River runs into Sawpit Lake and we paddled between a mile and a mile and a half down this to a short portage into Murphy Lake. From here we paddled about two miles to a three-quarter mile portage into a small river. Three fourths of the way over on this portage was an old lumber camp where we stopped and had lunch. After lunch we finished the portage and paddled up rocks in this stream and then made a short portage past a falls of the stream which lead into Jackfish Bay of Pease Lake. We paddled about five miles down this river and then stopped on a small open island. It was 5:30 by this time. We had supper at 5:45 and for once, nobody could say bediding, but we began to eat for it was the grand feed of the trip and it certainly was feed, too. We left the island at 6:15 and paddled two miles down Jackfish and then turned into a little bay where each canoe let off one man and a pack in tow for we had to take our way across a slow or floating bog. It took us on land about seven minutes and it took us 15 to come then but it was seven miles of paddling and left us not more than a mile from our old camping spot in Pease Lake. Jackfish was our destination. The rain had about 7:30. When everyone had landed we were asked whether we would rather stay out our full time of ten days or go in to-morrow as they had of time and we voted to go in. Then we voted for the best sleeping and camp for and Bill Hanson won. He will receive a badge later in the year. Then Doc Eggers and Billy went to the canoe and returned about 9:00. I got permission from Mr. Chase to sleep in a canoe or camp out in the lake and I like it very much. By 9:30 everyone was in bed asleep.

Wednesday - August 1

Everyone got up at the first streaks of day and took a sponge bath. Soon after we had breakfast and by about 5:30 we had broken camp and were on our way. We reached Higgins all right and stopped no more than five minutes to look at the fish traps and other things. We paddled up Newton and at the end of the portage into Tall Lake we stopped and took pictures of the ground. Then we were on our way for Bill wanted to catch the 9:30 train from Hinton for Dubut. We reached Hinton just in time. Bill to catch his train and the rest of us went to the Hinton Resort Hotel to buy food and candy and visit for dinner. Finally Eggers got his car out to take it to the bus so that it could be fixed and found he couldn't get it to run so Doc and I helped him with it and finally by having the whole bunch push it we got it over and by this time it was time for dinner. Everyone except Bill was there. After dinner almost everyone went over to the bus and gave Colton, Russ, and Doc a raising send off on the bus. Then Eggers took his car to the garage and had it fixed and also had a tire fixed and got gas and oil. By this time it was 3:30 and we went back to Shinton with a rush. Very soon after Eggers, Doc, Cily, Red, Johnnie, and Copen ~~Bogen~~ who were all going in Eggers' car, the last three to Virginia and Cily to ~~Buhl~~ Buhl and Doc and Eggers to Doc's home, left and an hour after that Mr. Chase and I left. Thus was the whole party scattered as a f from wheat.

So as the years do onward flow,
In character may each one grow,
And by his life to others show,
That as he'll sow he'll reap.
And here to our esteemed leader, Carlos S. Chase,
Three Cheers! Hurrah!

Respectfully submitted,
Scout Orlando Hood.
